

3.3.1.

3.3.1. Anonymous public access to designated collections and objects

This has previously been identified as the top priority for Merritt development. The designation of collections and/or objects to be exposed publicly is performed by providers, based on local policy decisions. Merritt curators will be able to designate their collections publicly accessible, and users will have direct access to materials stored in Merritt.