

3.3.5.

3.3.5. Self-service user account registration

Merritt account registration is currently an off-line operation that requires communication with the Merritt service manager. Merritt should support a self-service model for new account registration.